

How to lead your school / trust strategically

Overview

The Governance Handbook states that:

"the purpose of governance is to provide confident, strategic leadership and to create robust accountability, oversight and assurance for educational and financial performance".

The three core functions of governance, clarify this, the first of which is to:

- Ensure clarity of vision, ethos and strategic direction

Many governing boards lack the confidence or in-depth understanding of their role to fulfill this aspect of their responsibilities. This course provides guidance on how to ensure you have a clear vision for the future of your school / trust which is captured in a three-year strategy and annual improvement plan and an ethos that is clear to staff, parents and pupils.

What you will learn

- The boards strategic responsibilities
- Why a strong ethos is so important in every educational establishment
- The importance of leadership style and involving stakeholders
- What does a good school/trust vision look like?
- How to develop a vision and three-year strategy
- Pulling it all together into a school improvement process

Who should attend?

All governors, trustees and school leaders.

Tutor

Rosemary Lovatt is a highly experience governance consultant who ran the DfE governance leadership programme across the country for three years and within Essex for a further three years. she has extensive experience of undertaking governance reviews and designing, developing and delivering training for governors and trustees.
